Course Code	Course Title	Brief Justification
ECO 22001GE	Planning and Development	It deals with various concepts of economic planning and throws light on the role of government in economic development.
ECO 22207DCE	Agricultural Economics	Starting with the explanation of theoretical questions, the course intends to enhance the awareness of issues that are relevant to agriculture economics and contemporary debates in the literature in order to enable the analyses of these issues with basic microeconomics concepts. It also attempts to put Indian agriculture in proper perspective in light with established theories and models related to the subject
ECO 22302CR	Indian Economic Development	The emphasis of this course is on the overall social, political and economic environment influencing policy decisions in contemporary settings. Such an analysis is essential because the Indian economy is a unique amalgam of alternative competing and often conflicting theories. A proper understanding of its working is imperative if the student is to comprehend the ramifications that underlie most of the observed phenomena in the Indian economic set-up.
ECO 22402CR	Public Economics	This course lays the foundation required to understand the market failure and the role of government in the economy. In order to develop a broader understanding of the subject, the issues pertaining to public goods, externality, taxation and expenditure are dealt with Indian context.
ECO 22404CR	Issues in Indian Economy	Keeping in view the scope for alternative approaches, the emphasis of the course is on overall social, political and economic environment influencing policy decisions. To develop all these themes within a sectoral analysis framework, the course is divided into specific units dealing with various issues of interest and contemporary relevance.
ECO 22406DCE	Indian Financial System	This course introduces the macroeconomic dimensions of Indian Financial System. It will attempt to understand the crucial role played by financial markets and intermediaries in the development of Indian economy. The working and functioning of Stock Exchange and its Regulations are also the subject matter of this course.
ECO22004OE	Banking and Finance in India	This course covers the study of the banking and Public Finance. It intends to familiarise students with non- economic background to the conceptual framework of banking and finance in India and the role played by financial institutions in sectoral development of India since their evolution.
